There is a hero inside of you.

He is the voice of your deepest self. She is the magic of your hopes and fears - and the life that happens between them. The hero you are is in your actions, your beliefs, in the choices you make, the friends you keep, and in the parts of you that you never show.

We often think heroes are endlessly brave, always get the girl or guy, and pretty much achieve whatever they set out to get. So if you're anything like I used to be, you're probably thinking...

"I’m no hero. I’m stuck, frustrated, and nowhere near what I would call a happy storybook ending."

In fact, just a few short years ago I couldn't even fathom there was a way for me to reach my storybook ending. How wrong I was...

The ironic thing you'll discover is that being the hero is the easy part. Whether you are the tragic lover, the brave adventurer, the quiet provider or the anti-hero... you are always and inevitably playing out your story.
The question we're going to explore together is:

"Who is writing your story?"

If your answer to that question is anything other than "Me," then it's a good thing you're reading this right now. Unless you want to continue living your life at the whim of other people (their perspectives, beliefs, values, and demands), it is absolutely necessary that you learn these virtually unknown secrets to healing the wounds from your past stories so that they don't sabotage your future.

If you aren't consciously creating the story you're playing out in your life, then that means your subconscious programming is running your life. And the extreme popularity of drugs designed to treat our mental and emotional issues should tell you that this is definitely not a good thing.

When faced with adversity, you have two choices:

1. Either run, hide, and ignore the challenge
2. Or you can become empowered with the tools and understanding to transform your life story into absolutely anything you can imagine or dream of.
Personal transformation is about discovering a new way of being. It’s about embarking on a new way of consciously creating so that you can manifest the exact life you want. And when you understand and integrate the power of stories into your life, you'll discover this process can be fun, surprising, and easily accessible… even if you know absolutely nothing about stories.

Stories enable you to bypass many of the typical challenges of traditional self-help and spiritual growth processes because you enter into the space of play and creativity. As an author of your life, anything becomes possible. Everything is fair game.

The secret is learning how to immerse yourself in your love for stories, movies and fantasy to create the best life you can imagine - because your imagination truly is your only limit.

Thinking of your life in terms of stories may be entirely different from how you may have have been led to believe you have to "fix" your life. Fortunately, the very fact that you are reading this tells me that you are far more aware than most. Yet even though you are probably well versed in certain theories like the “Law of Attraction,” it's likely that you're still not seeing the results you want.

This will remain true until you realize - whether you like it or not - that you are the first cause of your experiences.

Everything you experience in life: the state of your relationships, your health, your income and especially your wellbeing and joy is a result of who you are, what you believe, and what you value.

What you experience is the result of your life story.

Every belief or value you have is a story that you tell yourself. And since we all have beliefs and values, these become stories that we all tell each other. You play this story out in your daily life whether you consciously recognize it or not.

The true path of transformation is one that enables you to dis-cover your story and rewrite it as you choose. "Discover" literally means to take the cover off of something, and now you have the opportunity to do exactly that:

You have the opportunity to remove the old programming that has covered your true self and created you and your current life, and instead author your life as you choose.

Starting today, you can become the hero of your life story. It's time to blast past limiting fears and beliefs, end your struggle and release conflict, and to ultimately do more, experience more, be more, and discover the purpose and passion within yourself waiting to be unleashed into the world.

When you're wondering whether or not this is possible, there's something I'd like you to remind yourself of:

I've been there...

The people I've coached have been there...

Every successful person in history has been there...

Every hero that has ever graced the pages of a book, the frames of the screen, or the lips of our ancient storytellers have all passed from struggle, conflict, and challenge into freedom, success, and abundance...

And they've all done it by changing their old limiting stories into new and empowering ones. Each of us has a story but very few of us take ownership of it. Very few of us author our life as we choose and desire. Yet this ability is our inalienable right as human beings.

Accept your destiny and your power.

You are a creator.

You are an author.

By doing this, you'll see your life change before your eyes. All change begins with your own personal choice to live differently. What must come next is action.

Don't get me wrong. This is not an easy or comfortable path to change your life for the better. It is the most rewarding one. Doubts happen and sometimes giving up looks like the most appealing option. And that doesn’t change the fact that now is the time to choose to let go of your old story, to rewrite a new one, and to embrace your dreams, passions, and your potential.

Imagine what you could do, achieve, and change in the next 30 days, the next 6 months, or even the next 5 years if you released your limiting beliefs of the past?

Remember that an author has no limits. You can write yourself any story you want and bring it to life.

But you must act now because I don't want you to go another day, another month, another year racking up reasons to believe that you're not worthy of the life you seek to live. I don't want you to suffer any more unnecessary challenges that never let up or the conflicts that break and batter you.

I've been there. The challenges of life can feel unstoppable, but believe me when I tell you that life is not meant to be that way.

We are all worthy of better.

We can all have better.

Know that there is a courage and power within you that no one can take and only you can give. Deep within you are already the answers that you seek... those unique answers that are true for you, and nobody but you.

Make no mistake about it; unlocking the power of stories is not for everybody. It is not a quick fix to your problems; but rather, it is a new way of journeying into the depths of yourself so that step-by-step you transform into the hero you deserve to be... and that you already are (you might just not realize it yet!).

This is an invitation to a new way of being.

It is an opportunity for you to choose whether or not the writing on your life's wall is going to be somebody else's...

Or yours.

My Conscious Chronicling Program is a very simple step-by-step process where you learn how to write short stories and simultaneously influence your own subconscious mind for creativity, happiness, joy, and abundance.

Unlike many writing or personal development programs, I created this teaching to be as concise and streamlined as possible (without sacrificing effectiveness).

As you know, I'm not one to make big promises. I just tell it like it is, share with you what I've learned, and trust that your inner guidance will walk you down the path that is right for you.

Now that said, this system has been used by many people for a variety of purposes:

- Some people believe they are terrible writers and desperately wish they could get even a few ideas scribbled down on paper...
- Others want to change their unconscious thoughts and feelings and create more abundance, improve their relationships, or even remove physical and emotional pain...
- Writers have discovered "golden nuggets" to getting their creative juices flowing again...
- And entrepreneurs have applied this process to novel writing, informational articles, and even children's books.

That's only a partial list.

And to be clear, none of that is what this program "does." Simply put, the Conscious Chronicling program teaches you the core basics of story writing and shows you how to apply this process every facet of your life.

How you apply what you learn will be unique to your particular situation in life. That's why it's your story to write as you choose. I'm just here to show you the possibilities of this uniquely empowering journey through writing conscious chronicles.

The Conscious Chronicling Program
In 2006, Chris was faced with seemingly insurmountable relationship challenges. He looked into spirituality, and shortly thereafter attended a program where he delved deep into his consciousness and consequently became a spiritual student for life. Over the course of several years, he transformed – moment by moment – into the empowering teacher he is today.

At the heart of Chris' teachings is his experience as a software tester. If he can't make something work for him, he won't teach it. His product management skills enable him to create resources that serve people worldwide. In addition to his professional experience, Chris has a wealth of life experience...

He holds two second-degree black belts in Tae Kwon Do, the US National Champion title, and he placed third at the Super Grands World Games in 1994. Chris has taught martial arts to students of all ages, firewalked with Peggy Dylan, swum with wild dolphins, traveled to more than a dozen different countries, and is a grateful father.

All this and more give him a solid foundation to support others on their own journeys of self-discovery. Frequently described as insightful, engaging, authentic, and inspiring, Chris is also a popular interview guest. Today, Chris reaches hundreds of thousands of people worldwide in over 150 different countries. Learn more about Chris and his programs at http://www.ChrisCade.com
